SAN ANTONIO: STUNNING HISTORY & GREAT FUN

Deep in the heart of Texas, San Antonio is a city that wears its 300-year history on its sleeve while simultaneously embracing a sleek, modern culinary and arts scene. It is a place where Spanish missions meet neon-lit river walks, and where the smell of mesquite BBQ competes with high-end French brasseries.

Whether you are a history buff, a family of thrill-seekers, or a "foodie" on a mission, San Antonio has something to offer. Here is your definitive guide to the best things to do in the Alamo City in 2026.

No visit is complete without acknowledging the city's roots. San Antonio is home to the only UNESCO World Heritage site in Texas.

- The Alamo: Standing in the heart of downtown, the 18th-century Spanish mission-turned-fortress is a symbol of Texas independence.
- The Mission Trail: Beyond the Alamo, there are four other historic missions: Concepción, San José, San Juan, and Espada. You can hike or bike the Mission Reach trail that connects them. Pro-tip: Start at Mission San José, known as the "Queen of the Missions," for a free Ranger-led tour.
- San Fernando Cathedral: Visit at night (Tuesdays, Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays) to witness "San Antonio | The Saga," a breathtaking 24-minute video projection that tells the city's history across the cathedral's facade.

The San Antonio River Walk is more than just a sidewalk; it's a subterranean world of its own.

- Go Rio River Cruises: Take a narrated boat tour to get your bearings. It's the best way to see the architecture and learn the city's lore.
- La Villita: Just steps from the river, this historic arts village is filled with cobblestone streets, artisan boutiques, and local galleries.
- The Museum Reach: For a quieter experience, head north on the river toward the San Antonio Museum of Art (SAMA). This section is lined with public art, including a school of fiberglass fish hanging under the Museum Reach bridge.

The former Pearl Brewery has been transformed into the city's trendiest neighborhood. It is the perfect blend of historic industrial architecture and modern luxury.

- Culinary Excellence: Try the French comfort food at Brasserie Mon Chou Chou or the elevated Asian fusion at Best Quality Daughter.
- Hotel Emma: Even if you aren't staying here, walk through the lobby to see how a 19th-century brewhouse was turned into a world-class hotel.
- Pullman Market: A massive specialty grocer and food hall that features local Texas produce, artisan breads, and multiple sit-down restaurant concepts.

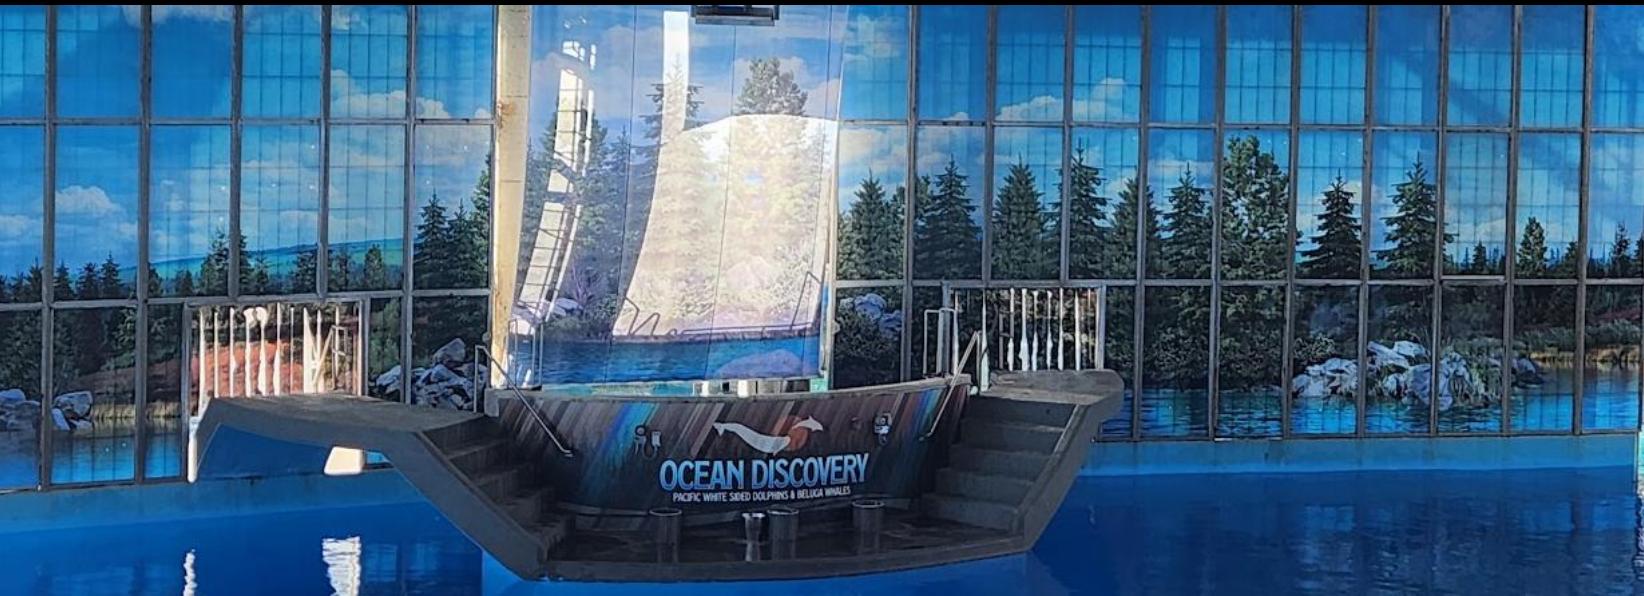

San Antonio is a city of celebrations. If your timing is right, don't miss these:

- Fiesta San Antonio (April 16–26, 2026): A city-wide party featuring the Battle of Flowers Parade, the only parade in the U.S. produced entirely by women.
- Day of the Dead (Late October): San Antonio hosts the largest Día de los Muertos celebration in the U.S., featuring a stunning river parade with illuminated altars.
- Stock Show & Rodeo (February): One of the largest and most prestigious rodeo events in the country, featuring top-tier musical acts.

And of course, you can't forget about SeaWorld! Here are the upcoming events for SeaWorld in 2026 in San Antonio!

Mardi Gras	Jan. 24 – Feb. 16	New Orleans-style carnival with jazz music, Cajun food, and parades.
Just for Kids Weekends	Feb. 21 – March 1	Kid-friendly shows, character meet-and-greets, and special activities.
Seven Seas Food Festival	March 26 – May 17	Over 100 global food items, 50+ craft beers/wines, and live music.
Electric Ocean	June – August	Summer night event with bioluminescent lighting and dance parties.
Red, White &amp; BBQ	Aug. 7 – Sept. 7	Regional BBQ styles from across the US and summer entertainment.

Mayfield, Ireland's Own:

James Keegan

A Path from Pubs to Arenas

In the crowded landscape of modern folk-rock, few voices have cut through the noise with the raw immediacy of James Keegan. Hailing from the northside of Cork, Ireland, the 22-year-old singer-songwriter has quickly graduated from local pub gigs to massive international stages, proving that the age-old Irish tradition of the "grafter," the hard-working man, is alive and well.

Keegan's story is one of rapid acceleration fueled by old-fashioned hard work. Raised in Mayfield, Cork, he began his career cutting his teeth in the competitive local gig circuit. Unlike many of his digital-native peers who rely solely on TikTok virality, Keegan built his following the traditional way: playing ravenously. His sweet nature and timeless personality add to the true feeling of how people are drawn to him.

By early 2023, he was a fixture in venues like Whelan's and Cyprus Avenue, honing a sound that blends the acoustic warmth of traditional Irish folk with the gritty energy of indie rock. His work ethic paid off quickly; he notched multiple Number 1 singles on the Irish iTunes charts before he had even released a full-length project. With number one songs like "Take Me Home," "Attached Me to Fire," and "Love Grows Easy," he had proven to be a force straight from Ireland.

Critics have often noted that Keegan possesses a voice that sounds "older" than his calendar age. Described by Hot Press as having "soaring vocals" and by peers like Damien Dempsey as a "powerful voice," Keegan trades in husky, soulful melodies that carry a raw emotional weight.

His debut EP, Teaching Our Teachers (released mid-2025), serves as his major artistic statement. Produced by Christian Best at Monique Recording Studios, the record showcases his ability to pivot between intimate, finger-picked acoustic ballads and larger, cinematic soundscapes. Tracks like "River Song" and "Love Grows Easy" highlight his knack for storytelling—weaving narratives that feel both deeply personal and universally accessible. His style has drawn favorable comparisons to Ben Howard, particularly in how he uses atmospheric production to elevate simple folk structures.

Having a critically acclaimed EP, touring with Geoff Tate, and the passion to keep working, Keegan is currently among Ireland's most promising musical exports. With a sound that resonates in both intimate folk clubs and cavernous rock halls, he is effectively bridging the gap between the traditional Irish balladeer and the modern touring rock star.

On a private note, we here at the magazine have been so incredibly lucky to have spent time with James Keegan in Cork. Watching him perform on home turf is a whole different vibe, and also multiple times in the United States—truly an amazing experience to witness that energy live!

After meeting Geoff Tate, Keegan embarked on a massive tour that saw him performing across 16 countries in Europe and 40 states in the USA. Playing solo acoustic sets to audiences expecting heavy metal is a daunting task, but reports from the road suggest Keegan won over the crowds with sheer charisma and vocal power.

The Tampa Bay area goes all out for Valentine's Day, offering everything from classic dinner cruises to quirky "undie runs." Since February 14, 2026, falls on a Saturday, many venues are extending their celebrations across the entire weekend.

Here are the most popular ways to celebrate in Tampa, St. Pete, and Clearwater:

🚢 Romantic Cruises & Water Views

Dining on the water is the quintessential Tampa Bay experience.

- Yacht StarShip (Tampa & Clearwater): One of the most popular choices, offering brunch, lunch, and dinner cruises. Tickets typically include a multi-course meal, an open bar, and a DJ for dancing.
- Craft Tampa: For a more modern vibe, this river cruiser features an open kitchen and sails through the heart of Downtown Tampa.
- Starlite Cruises (Clearwater Beach): Known for evening yacht cruises with full-course meals and a "StarLite" view of the Gulf.

🍽 Signature Dining Specials

Many of the area's iconic restaurants offer curated prix fixe menus:

- Bern's Steak House: Widely considered the most romantic spot in Tampa. If you can't get a dinner reservation, try booking the Harry Waugh Dessert Room for an intimate, booth-seated experience.
- Ulele & Armature Works: Perfect for a "dinner and a stroll" date. You can eat at Ulele then walk the Tampa Riverwalk as the sun sets.
- Timpano Hyde Park: Located in the charming Hyde Park Village, they often offer multi-course Italian menus for around $85 per person.
- Rooftop Views: Check out Sal Y Mar in Midtown or Beacon on Water Street for elevated cocktails and panoramic city views.

Operation Mindcrime: The Final Tour

Joanne Durann

On January 30th, Geoff Tate brought his Operation Mindcrime Final Tour to Ruth Eckerd Hall in Clearwater. Tate, known for his previous band Queensrÿche, has been rocking fans for over 45 years. Loyal followers from all over the Florida area showed up in true form to watch this final tour of the full album “Operation Mindcrime” performed in its entirety. His vocals truly have not missed a beat, and to witness Geoff Tate in 2026 is to witness a masterclass in vocal preservation and theatrical command.

While other of his 1980s contemporaries have retreated into lower tunings or relied on backing tracks, Tate remains the "Golden Throat" of progressive metal, delivering a performance that feels less like a legacy act and more like a high-stakes operatic revival, and like a fine wine, Geoff only gets better with time.

Geoff is often called the hardest-working man in rock and roll, as evidenced by his diligent touring schedule. He can be found touring 5 to 7 days a week. When he is not, check his Backstage Pass Travel page; he is usually taking a group of fans to an epic location.

Tate's 2026 shows are generous, often spanning nearly two hours. The setlist is a meticulous journey through the hallowed halls of this epic, groundbreaking album. From the powerful theatrical building of the background music, to his prowling command of the stage, and ultimately the room, to the sweet and timeless vocal with Clodagh McCarthy and Sweet Sister May as a phenomenal duet, the concert was as fantastic today as it has ever been.

The room opens to the darkness of the story, with Geoff Tate's voice the only sound as he says, "I Remember Now," followed by the instrumental "Anarchy-X," which adds the music in to build and draw the audience in as Tate himself flies onto the stage, as the song Revolution Calling begins. His presence, in all black with a cowboy hat, enhances the performance's atmosphere and the audience's excitement. As the band pushes on through the album, Sister Mary arises, sung by Clodagh McCarthy. Her voice is powerful, with a beautiful, spiritual, and haunting effect. This brings the true realism of the character and completes the duet with Geoff Tate

His current band is impeccable; the sound is clean, well-performed, extremely tight, and, in my opinion, better than the original band. Geoff brings together some of the best musicians from around the world to complete his unparalleled sound.

The band paused partway through to take a moment and raise a glass to many people, people hurt, destroyed, and brutalized by violence. Telling the audience that as humans, we are very powerful beasts, and we should all know that we can do much better. Geoff has always been truly caring, and he sees what most cannot or won't. He also speaks to his true nature.

Unlike other bands and singers, this show is not a sterile replay of the album; it is a gritty, live, unrelenting story told by Geoff to the audience, as they hang on tightly for the ride. It truly honors Geoff's voice and his diligence to his craft like no other. This final chapter cements Geoff's place in rock and roll history and leaves the crown as the master fully intact.

You would be amiss if you didn't see this show live and in person for yourself. You can find all the tour information at www.geofftate.com. There, you can also purchase his merchandise, meet-and-greet passes, catch up on the latest news, and find Travel Tour information.

Ruth Eckerd Hall: A Legacy of Art and Community in Clearwater

In the cultural landscape of Florida's Tampa Bay area, few institutions loom as large—both literally and figuratively—as Ruth Eckerd Hall. What began as a generous donation of land in the late 1970s has blossomed into a world-class performing arts center that consistently ranks among the top venues globally. From its Frank Lloyd Wright-inspired architecture to its bustling current calendar, the Hall's story is one of visionary philanthropy and continuous reinvention.

The Vision and Foundation

The story of Ruth Eckerd Hall begins with a gift. In November 1977, June Baumgardner Gelbart donated a 38-acre parcel of land to the City of Clearwater in memory of Richard B. Baumgardner, Sr. The donation came with a specific stipulation: the land was to be used for a performing arts center.

This challenge was met by the community, led by instrumental figures like Jack and Ruth Eckerd. The Eckerd family, known for their business acumen and philanthropy, rallied support to turn the dream into reality. In December 1979, ground was broken for what would become the Richard B. Baumgardner Center for the Performing Arts.

The design of the building was entrusted to the prestigious Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation (Taliesin Associated Architects). The result was a facility that prioritized acoustics and sightlines, costing $14.5 million. On October 15, 1983, Ruth Eckerd Hall was officially dedicated, opening its doors with a performance by the Suzuki Children of Japan. The main auditorium, named in honor of Ruth Eckerd, quickly became a cultural centerpiece in Clearwater.

Evolution and Expansion

Ruth Eckerd Hall has never been content to stand still. Over the decades, it has undergone significant transformations to enhance the experience for patrons and performers alike. A major renovation in 2003–2004 upgraded the backstage areas, lobby, and auditorium, adding the Dimmitt Family Atrium Lounge and refreshing the interior aesthetics.

The venue's commitment to education was cemented with the establishment of the Marcia P. Hoffman School of the Arts. Home to the Murray Theatre—a renovated, intimate black-box space—the school serves tens of thousands of students annually, offering arts education that breaks down barriers of age and circumstance.

In recent years, the "Expanding the Experience" campaign has reshaped the venue's footprint. In 2019, a stunning renovation was completed, featuring a new Grand Lobby with three-story floor-to-ceiling windows. This space now houses the Kate Tiedemann and Ellen Cotton Cabaret Theatre, turning the act of waiting for a show into a performance experience of its own.

A Modern Cultural Hub

Today, Ruth Eckerd Hall is more than just a single stage; it is a sprawling cultural campus. In addition to the main 2,180-seat auditorium, the organization manages and operates the historic Nancy & David Bilheimer Capitol Theatre in downtown Clearwater and The BayCare Sound, a state-of-the-art waterfront amphitheater.

The venue's "current times" are defined by critical acclaim and community integration. Industry publications such as Pollstar and Billboard consistently rank it among the top theatres in the world for its size. In 2024, the International Entertainment Buyers Association (IEBA) named it "Theatre of the Year."

The calendar remains robust, featuring a diverse array of programming that ranges from the Florida Orchestra and Broadway productions to comedy legends like Kevin James and musical icons like Herb Alpert. Beyond entertainment, the Hall continues to serve as a community pillar, partnering with organizations like the Homeless Empowerment Program (HEP) and the Salvation Army for local outreach.

From a 38-acre gift of land to a multi-venue powerhouse, Ruth Eckerd Hall has remained true to its founding mission: changing lives through the performing arts. As it looks toward future seasons, it stands as a testament to what a community can build when it values culture, education, and the enduring power of a shared experience.

TAMPA BAY RAYS NEWS RELEASE

AL CHAMPIONS: 2020, 2008 | AL EAST CHAMPIONS: 2021, 2020, 2010, 2008 | AL WILD CARD: 2023, 2022, 2019, 2013, 2011

For Immediate Release
January 20, 2026

STATEMENT FROM THE TAMPA BAY RAYS & HILLSBOROUGH COLLEGE

TAMPA, Fla.—The Hillsborough College District Board of Trustees has voted unanimously to approve a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the Tampa Bay Rays, authorizing the College to pursue a partnership for the redevelopment of its Dale Mabry Campus. The team announced statements from Rays Chief Executive Officer Ken Babby, Hillsborough College President Dr. Ken Atwater, and Hillsborough College Board of Trustees Chair Greg Celestan.

Ken Babby – Chief Executive Officer, Tampa Bay Rays

"We are encouraged to take this early but very important step forward in bringing a shared and innovative concept to life for all of Tampa Bay. We are grateful for today's unanimous vote, which reflects what's possible when we all listen, learn and work together to realize a vision that will make our community better. Our partnership with Hillsborough College creates meaningful opportunities for students through education, workforce development, and real-world learning, while strengthening the connection between the team and the community we call home."

We have a lot of work ahead, but we will move forward energized by the momentum behind this effort and excited to continue our work toward building a lasting partnership that creates a forever home for the Tampa Bay Rays and serves our fans, students, and the broader community for generations to come."

Dr. Ken Atwater – President, Hillsborough College

"This partnership represents a transformational opportunity for Hillsborough College and, most importantly, for the student experience. A project of this scale and vision creates new pathways for learning, workforce development, internships, and career-connected education that directly benefit our students, faculty and staff. By reimagining the Dale Mabry Campus within a dynamic, mixed-use district, we are enhancing the educational experience while strengthening our role as an economic and civic anchor for the community. We are proud to be part of a proposal that invests in our College, expands opportunity, and positions Hillsborough College at the center of Tampa's future."

Gregory Celestan – Chair, Hillsborough College Board of Trustees

"Today's vote reflects our shared belief in the power of partnership to drive real community impact. This is about so much more than a ballpark. It's about economic development, opportunity for our students, and creating something meaningful that benefits Tampa Bay for generations. We're excited to take this important step forward with the Rays and to help set the stage for the City and County as they move into the next phase of this process. Welcoming the Rays home to this site while creating a live, work, play and learn district is an extraordinary opportunity, and we're ready to help get this project in motion."
